NO news may have been good news in the old days—but that was before the era of newspapers, their telegraph wires, and their picture services. I am looking at a page of the Hollywood (Calif.) BOBCATS IN SHAPE

Coach Hammons Drills
Locals to Develop Good
Scoring Punch

Serious and hard practice sessions all this week emphasized that Coach Foy Hammons expects a real battle when his team takes the field here Friday night against the Horatio High School Lions.

The Bobcats have worked diligently on offensive plays in an attempt to fashion a greater scoring punch. Blocking and running was stressed by the coach.

Hard scrimmages with nothing held back, also took place. Defensive maneuvers designed to stop Horatio's veteran and heavy backfield have featured the Bobcat drills.

A Tough Problem.
Reports from Horatio say that the Lions are coming here expecting to give the Bobcats the toughest opposition thus far encountered, which includes last week's tussle with the Camden Panthers.

While the Bobcats lost to Camden by a 6-to-0 score Horatio was conquering a strong Van Buren team. It was the first game for the Lions, and they won, 6 to 0, at Van Buren.

Kaniatobe, big 190-pound, Horatio Indian, is considered the main threat in the Lion backfield. However, he is ably assisted by three other veteran backs.

Reports also say that Horatio is bringing an experienced line to Hope, each member having from one to three years service behind him. Actual weights of the invading team were not available Thursday, but information at hand indicates that the two squads will be about evenly matched.

Bobcats in Good Shape
Barring further injuries to the team, the Bobcats will be at top speed with the exception of Ramsey, an end, who will be kept out of the game because of an injured leg.

Tickets are on sale at Hope Confectionery, Jacks Newstead and Moreland's. Gates at the football field open at 7 p. m. and the kick-off is set for 7:45.

DETROIT, Mich.—The Detroit Tigers pounded three Chicago pitchers for an 8-to-3 victory here Thursday in the second game of the World Series. The victory evened the count, Chicago taking the first game Wednesday, 3 to 0.

Tommy Bridges for the Tigers held the Cubs to six hits. Detroit got nine hits, including a home run in the first inning by Hank Greenberg, Detroit first baseman.

Detroit knocked out the veteran Charley Root in the opening inning, scoring four runs on him. Root faced only four men. White led off with a single, scored from first base on Cochrane's double. Gehring singled, scoring Cochrane and then Greenberg lifted one into the bleachers, scoring Cochrane ahead of him.

Roy Henshaw, left-handed pitcher, relieved Root but was knocked out in the fourth inning when Detroit scored three more runs. Detroit's final run came in the seventh off Cawalki.

The Cubs scored their first run in the fifth. The other two came in the seventh. Upward of 45,000 fans defied wintry breezes to see the contest, which was cold enough to cause suspension of activity on anything but a world series baseball game.

TOP—Fifty thousand fans, packed into every nook of the Navin field stands in Detroit, watched the first game of the World Series Wednesday. This picture showing part of the colorful throng in grandstand and bleachers and a clear view of the playing field where the Cubs clawed the Tigers, 3 to 0.

BOTTOM—An error in the second inning threatened to give Schoolboy Rowe a repetition of the attack of jitters he suffered in the first. After one out, Billy Jurges, Cub shortstop, singled sharply to left and went to second when Goose Goslin booted the ball. Here's Jurges safe at the key-stone, with Rogell making the play and Umpire Bill McGowan very busy rendering his decision.

Packed Auditorium

A singing school in progress at Spring Hill for the past several days was brought to a successful close Tuesday night with a program that packed the Spring Hill school auditorium to capacity.

A pie and basket supper, singing and public speaking was held. The program lasted about three hours. W. S. Atkins, Hope attorney, was the featured speaker. Also appearing in the program was the Jim Bearden quartet. Charles Dana Gibson of Hope was master of ceremonies.

Pies were auctioned off by Sheriff Bearden. He was assisted by Silas Sanford.

Program at Surdis

A pie supper and musical program will be given at Eardis, five miles west of Ozark, Saturday night, October 5. The announcement was made by Roy Lyons of the Eardis community. The public is invited.

Great Britain Prepares

LONDON, Eng.—(AP)—King George took a hand in the Italian-Ethiopian crisis Wednesday when he summoned his foreign and war ministers to the palace just before a cabinet session on the subject.

The cabinet, which heard the report of Anthony Eden, minister for League of Nations affairs, on the situation in Geneva, in an atmosphere of extreme pessimism, continued to rest the responsibility for action in the Imperial Defense Council went into session.

Army commanders in India were reported preparing to send troops to Africa in case of war. Significance was attached to the visit to Alexandria of Sir Miles Lampson, British high commissioner in Egypt, for an interview with King Fuad. His visit coincided with reports that Egyptians are growing increasingly uneasy over mobilization in their border.

At Brighton the British Labor party lined up solidly in favor of the use of full League of Nations sanctions, even of a military nature, in event of an Italian aggression in Africa. By a margin of 20 to 1 the party supported the recent action of the international trade union federation.

GENEVA, Switzerland.—(AP)—The dreaded war between Italy and Ethiopia started Thursday, in the view of the League of Nations, with official Ethiopian reports of an Italian air bombardment of Ethiopian villages and a battle raging in Agame province.

That a state of war existed, though not officially declared, was considered by League officials to be evident in a message from the government of Premier Mussolini referring to "the war-like and aggressive spirit" mented by Ethiopian leaders "who long have been demanding war with Italy and who have succeeded in imposing war."

The League council is officially convoked for an emergency session Saturday morning to deal with the conflict.

CHAPTER I

After a long drowse, America decides to wake up. A lanky giant, carefree under the sun . . . as long and as brown as the great rivers that loop across its plains—and as unexpectedly powerful, too, when its course is obstructed. . . the giant yawns, stretches, looks out over the continent-wide panorama of busy life, and begins sweeping the vermin that have been pestering it into the sea.

What is the giant like, and what are the vermin, and how is it all happening? To answer calls for a moving picture camera with a thousand lens; a camera that can look into every aspect of American life, the good and the bad, the spectacular and the humdrum, picking up a myriad unconnected pictures and displaying them in a pattern which falls together, at the last, like a jig-saw puzzle when it is completed.

Pictures of America! America being heedless and selfish. America coming to its senses and girding for a fight, America welding its brain and muscle into one gigantic job of housecleaning—the world's greatest nation, displaying its raw strength and its reckless vitality and its salty, saving humor in a triumphant struggle to show that Uncle Sam is still the homely and admirable chap he was in his youth.

A good looking girl, with maize-yellow hair and eyes that haven't looked at the world long enough to know how seamy its underside can be, looks up from her table in a night club. . . she's thrilled to death to be there and she thinks she's being just a little bit wicked, in a perfectly nice way. . . she looks up from her table and smiles at the sandy-haired chap beaming down at her, and she says "How do you do Mr. Harkins?"

A clerk in an airy Washington office yanks a green drawer out of a ceiling-high filing cabinet, ruffles through it with practiced fingers, and draws out a card. On the card there is a man's picture, along with 10 inky smudges and half a dozen lines of type; and pinned to it is a smaller card, colored red, with the word "Wanted!" in large black letters. . .

A big automobile stops in a lane by the veranda of a western ranch house, and a hard-faced man sticks his head out of the front window; and a broad-shouldered youth gets up from the veranda steps and says, "Okay, Joey," and puts himself and his suitcase into the car, and it springs off to the northeast over the rolling, treeless hills where the famous bad men of the old west used to have their hide-outs.

A sallow, worried-looking man sits at a desk in a Chicago doctor's office. The telephone jangles; he answers, says "Yeah, yeah, I'll be right over," and takes a last, furtive look around the place, before he locks the door and goes out. . .

A man in a Chicago apartment writes down a phone number on the vanished woodwork over a closet door. . . And ambitious youngster fresh out of college sells a big sedan to a well-dressed stranger, and goes home congratulating himself, and trying to figure out how soon he will have enough money to get married. . . A politician grins as his visitor shuts his office door behind him, and puts a fat sheaf of bonds in his safe. . . A tired police detective drinks a glass of beer and says this to his friend, "Y'see, Bill, it's like this—the big lug's got an in down at the city hall."

Genius spreads its wings
And soars beyond itself, or selfish things.
Talent has need of stepping stones,
some cross,
Some cheated purpose, some great pain or less,
Must lay the groundwork, and arouse ambition,
Before it labors onward to fruition.
There is no building Genius. Only death
Can silence it or hinder. While there's breath
Or sense of feeling, it will spurn the sod,
And lift itself to glory, and to god.

A splendid program on the Colonial Period of American Literature featuring the first meeting of the club season on Wednesday afternoon, when the Bay View Reading Club met at the Champlin home on S. Elm street with Dr. Etta Champlin and Miss Mamie Twitcheell as gracious hostesses.
The business period was conducted by the president, Mrs. E. E. White, at which time, Mrs. W. P. Agee's resignation as recording secretary was read and accepted, and Mrs. Fred R. Harrison was unanimously elected to fill the place. The Constitution and By-Laws were read by Mrs. George Spragins. Mrs. Gus Haynes chairman of the year book committee gave some explanations in regard to the studies as outlined in the study course and presented a chart showing the different periods of American literature, offering helpful suggestions as to making each period more interesting and fuller than shown in the year book. She also stated that the club was under obligations to Miss Annie Jean Walker for typing the books. Mrs. T.

R. Billingsley was introduced as lender for the afternoon's program. Mrs.
Billingsley gave a very comprehensive outline of the Colonial Period, that was both, very pleasing and instructive; she stated that history was what the people of a country had done, and literature expressed its feelings and thoughts, leading up to the general development of American literature after the landing of the colonists.
Mrs. Fred R. Harrison named six of the New England writers of the period, and commented on their style of writing followed by Miss Maggie Bell who discussed the writers of the South stressing on the gradual development of Southern literature from the time of Captain John Smith of Virginia, wrote the first American book to the time of William Byrd and William Strachey, whose manuscript seems to have reached the eye of William Shakespeare and gave the great dramatist the inspiration for one of his best plays, "The Tempest." Mrs.

D. B. Thompson closed this unusually interesting program by reading sections from the writers of the period, some of which proved very amusing.
Following the program, the hostesses assisted by Mrs. C. M. Agee, Mrs. Arch Moore and Mrs. Sid Henry served a delightful ice course with cake. The meeting was held in the Sun Parlor, which was bright and attractive with a quantity of gracefully arranged fall flowers. Guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Frank Ward, Mrs. Edwin
Ward and Mrs. Sid Henry. Mrs. Guy
Holt was welcomed as a new member.

The Cemetery association will meet at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon at the city hall.

Mrs. Lawrence Boyd of Corpus Christi, Texas, is the guest of the Barlow family and other relatives and friends.

Mrs. S. L. Reed, Mrs. Robert Wilson, Mrs. Frances Allison and Miss

Warneke Family to See Lon Pitch

But It Takes Good Lawyer to Persuade Them to Go to Chicago

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—Mr. and Mrs.
Luke Warneke, parents of the pitching ace of the Chicago Cubs, accompanied by Prosecuting Attorney and Mrs. Houston Emory, left Wednesday for Chicago.

They will see all the World Series games in that city and, if they wish, go back to Detroit should additional games there be necessary. Mr. Emory received a telephone call from Lon Warneke Sunday.

"Go over into Montgomery county and get me and paw and bring them to Chicago for the games there," he asked. "My wife and I want them and won't take no for an answer. Now, you may have trouble getting them away from home. They have never seen a World Series, so just serve a subpoena or some legal document on
'em."

Emory went to Montgomery county.
At first Lon's parents "didn't know about going," but finally agreed.

"Last time Lon was in a World Series," explained his father, "I listened in. 'Nother fellow bet me Lon wouldn't strike out Babe Ruth. Well, Ruth came to bat and Lon struck him out. Then I turned off the radio and collected my bet. Yes, mother and I will be pretty glad to see Lon pitch."

Pritchard and their guest, Mrs. Lawrence Boyd will motor to Malvern Thursday afternoon for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Dick Barlow.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Barnum had as recent guests, Mrs. Essie Johnson and son of Richmond, Ind., Mrs. Mary Stacks and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones of College Corner, Ohio.

Mrs. John Sykes of Corpus Christi, Texas, arrived Tuesday night for her annual visit with Mr. and Mrs. D. M.
Finley. Friends will be glad to know that Mr. Finley is very much improved from his recent illness.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By Alicia Hart

Set Your Cap for Fitting Cuffure.

Those smart little toques, pointed caps and exotic evening hats that you are coveting these days aren't meant to be worn over just any old hairdress.
Frankly, the most spectacular ones need special cuffures to set them off.

With the Grecian (turbans your shir-ing locks can be piled high on your head or worn in halo effect with braids, giving the back of your neck
a clean-cut, swept-upward look.

Curls Are In Order
To go with pointed velvet or velvet afternoon caps, reminiscent of the Italian Renaissance, rows and rows of curls are in order. The top can be left plain (it won't show anyway), but the sides must be curled in lavish manner. And by curls, I mean ringlets and not subtle, broad waves.

Use ringlet curls with toques that cover only one side of your head. Your hairdresser can arrange a narrow band, made of tiny rows of them, on the right side where the cap slants downward and a rather wide band on the left.

He can put them across the back, of course, but before you decide definitely on this, have him try a flat, swirled effect there. Hollywood stars and a good many smart society women are wearing their hair, whether long or short, perfectly flat at the back. This is especially good if you happen to have a beautifully shaped head.

Short buns can be trained toward one side and softly waved. Longer
ones may be fluffed outward.
For evening, your hairdress is even more important. If you are going to wear some kind of ornament, select it before you decide on a cuffure. If you have picked a halo hat of gold
mesh or seed pearls, take it along when you go to the beauty shop. Let your finger wave expert set it on your head before he starts to design a hair
style to go with it.

One nice cuffure, done up to wear
with a Juliet cap of strands of seed pearls, is unwaved across the top and

Potato Control Is to Be Abandoned

Wallace Doesn't Like It—Corn-Hog Policy Is Under Debate

WASHINGTON—(AP)—In a stormy hearing before the Agricultural Administration (AAA) Thursday
Senator Bailey and Representative Warren, of North Carolina, demanded that the Department of Agriculture enforce the potato control act which Secretary Wallace said Wednesday he wanted to avoid enforcing.

Wallace Objects
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Notice that
"I'm going to do all I can to avoid enforcing the potato control bill" came from Secretary Wallace Wednesday as growers gathered here to consider a substitute for the statutory tax curb of potato production.

"I don't want to enforce the potato act," Wallace emphasized. "We've tried to use common sense at all times."

Republicans here charged that the administration was seeking to evade enforcement of the law.
The ATA has called a hearing Thursday to consider alternatives to the tax of 3 cents per pound Congress voted on all potatoes sold in excess of a national allotment. Wallace said that no funds had yet been found to collect the tax, and that unless funds were available, he law probably could not be enforced.

Debate Corn-Hog Policy
LITTLE ROCK—Corn and hog producers of Arkansas will vote October 28 on the question of continuing the government's corn-hog reduction program. W. W. Muldrow, animal husbandman of the Agricultural Extension Service, announced Wednesday on his return from a regional conference in Ardmore, Okla.

County educational meetings on the program will be held throughout the state prior to the referendum, and arrangements will be completed for taking the vote.

Hearings on the question of continuing the program are being held in Washington, and a referendum is necessary before the secretary of agriculture can announce a 1936 reduction program, Mr. Muldrow said.

Following the referendum, the secretary must announce not later than November 5 whether a program will be offered to producers next year.

He can put them across the back, of
course, but before you decide definitely on this, have him try a flat, swirled effect there. Hollywood stars and a good many smart society women are
wearing their hair, whether long or short, perfectly flat at the back. This is especially good if you happen to
have a beautifully shaped head.

Short buns can be trained toward
one side and softly waved. Longer
ones may be fluffed outward.
For evening, your hairdress is even more important. If you are going to wear some kind of ornament, select it
before you decide on a cuffure. If you have picked a halo hat of gold
mesh or seed pearls, take it along
when you go to the beauty shop. Let your finger wave expert set it on your
head before he starts to design a hair
style to go with it.

One nice cuffure, done up to wear
with a Juliet cap of strands of seed
pearls, is unwaved across the top and

2 Hempstead Boys Accepted by Army

Army and Navy Recruiting at Texarkana Also

News was received here Thursday of the enlistment of two more Hempstead county boys in the Army, at the recruiting office in Paris, Texas.

They are Joseph A. Nipper, of Hope, who has been accepted for the field artillery, stationed at Fort Sill, Lawton, Okla.; and William Durant Goodlett, of Ozon, whose assignment was not announced.

The Eighth area, covering six states, has enough vacancies to allow enlistments for the next three months at the rate of 2,000 men per month, according to Homer T. Cummings, in charge of the Paris recruiting office.

Another Army recruiting office is located in the postoffice building at Texarkana.

Recruits are also being received by the Navy, according to John H. Adcock, in charge of the Navy recruiting office at Texarkana. Men enlisting there will be sent to the U. S. Naval Training Station at San Diego, Calif.

The good women were visiting, and one, in an effort to be complimentary, said:

"John met your husband at the Forty-and-Eight meeting last night, and he says the boys consider him quite a raconteur."

"Just lies!" was the indignant reply. "I don't believe he drinks any more than the rest of 'em."

Hitler Will Not Join With Italy

German Pledges to Great Britain Give France Feeling of Security

PARIS, France.—(P)—Premier Pierre Laval, cautious in committing France to a definite attitude in the Italo-Ethiopian conflict in fear of what Germany would do, Wednesday received Adolf Hitler's assurance, transmitted through Great Britain, that Germany has no intention of joining Italy.

Officials learned of Hitler's reported promise as Laval conferred with his defense ministers over the reported invasion of Ethiopia by Italian troops. Laval expressed fear that sanctions are near and that the war feeling in Europe had increased. He awaited the League's call to such measures.

Authoritative sources said Vittorio Cerruti, the Italian ambassador to France, had promised Laval Italy would do nothing if only financial and economic sanctions are applied as a result of Italy's Ethiopian expedition, but would remain "on the defensive" in the Mediterranean.

French officials dismissed Mussolini's speech as "nothing new."

The French premier is prepared to discuss with Anthony Eden, British spokesman at Geneva, the draft of the Franco-British joint action before the League of Nations, now that he has Britain's assurance that Hitler will keep the peace.

Britain sent Sir Phipps, ambassador to Berlin, to win from Hitler his assurance that he would not use the present European crisis to forward his own ambitions.

Hitler is said to have told Phipps that Britain might rest assured that Germany had "chosen the path of neutrality" and any thought of the Nazis picking the time of crisis to attack France was "ridiculous."

Hitler, in recent speeches, has stressed Germany's commitment to "neutrality." Berlin reports said that Germany "values the British friendship too highly to jeopardize it by flirting with Italy."

The British argued that Germany really was a potential competitor of Italy, rather than an ally, in its struggle for colonies. Germany took hope from the speech of Sir Samuel Hoare, British foreign secretary at Geneva, in which he said "the world is not static" and hinted at the redistribution of colonies.

Gen. Craig Named Chief of U.S. Army

MacArthur's Successor Once Headed Army-of-Occupation in Germany

WASHINGTON.—(P)—Maj. Gen. Malin Craig, commandant of the War College and a veteran of two wars, Wednesday was named by President Roosevelt as chief of staff of the United States army.

He will succeed Gen. Douglas MacArthur, now on his way to become military adviser to the new Philippine commonwealth.

With the new office goes the title of a full generalship.

Craig came into the army through West Point. He was born in St. Joseph, Mo., August 5, 1875, and graduated from the academy into a second lieutenancy in 1898. He saw service in Cuba during the Spanish American war, and in June, 1900, participated in the China relief expedition made necessary by the Boxer outbreak.

After service in army posts Craig, upon American entrance into the World war in 1917, was assigned as chief-of-staff of the 41st Division and with that outfit for France. Later he became chief-of-staff of the First Army Corps, until the army was signed. Then he marched into Germany as chief-of-staff of the Army of Occupation.

Upon his return to the United States in 1919, Craig served as director of the Army War College during 1920-21 and as commandant of the Cavalry School at Fort Riley, Kan., in 1921-23.

In 1924 he was promoted to major general and made chief of cavalry for two years, and then assigned as assistant chief-of-staff for an additional two years.

Since that time he has commanded the Fourth Corps Area at Atlanta; the Panama Division, the Panama Canal Department and the Ninth Corps Area at San Francisco, until January of this year when he was assigned as commandant of the Army War College.

Does Your Food Make You Strong or Weak?

Do you realize that what you eat today is your flesh and blood tomorrow? Also, your strength or weakness? So if you have no appetite or if your food sours and turns to gas, instead of digesting normally, you are sure to grow weaker and weaker each day instead of stronger and more vigorous.

To escape the weakness and sickness that are sure to result from undernourishment, you must regain a hearty appetite and overcome the symptoms of indigestion. For this purpose we strongly recommend B-L Tonic to restore your appetite and stimulate your digestion, so you can obtain all possible nourishment from your food and regain health and strength.

SATISFACTION OR YOUR MONEY BACK. We are authorized to refund the price of the first bottle to any of our customers who are not delighted with B-L Tonic—you are to be the sole judge.

Wrestling Bouts Resume Thursday

Bob Montgomery to Meet 'Mystery Man' in E. Second St. Warehouse

Resumption of regular weekly wrestling shows in Hope was announced Thursday by Bert Mauldin, who has taken over interests of Donal Moore in promoting the shows. Mr. Mauldin said future matches here would be staged at a new location with the first scheduled for 8 p. m. Thursday in a building on East Second street, formerly the Hope Fertilizer company warehouse.

Mr. Mauldin said that he was doing the promoting of matches under auspices of the American Legion.

Tickets for the first match are being sold by the Auxiliary of the Hope Boys' band. A percentage of proceeds will go to the benefit fund to purchase new uniforms for the band boys.

Carpenters have about completed the new arena. Comfortable seats have been erected, and will be sold at prices ranging from 25 to 55 cents, plus tax.

Dr. Barney Cosnick, former University of Illinois athlete, will oppose the "Black Dragon" in the opening match.

Cancer 'Digested' by New Discovery

Canadian's "Natural Process" Is Declared to Be Partly Successful

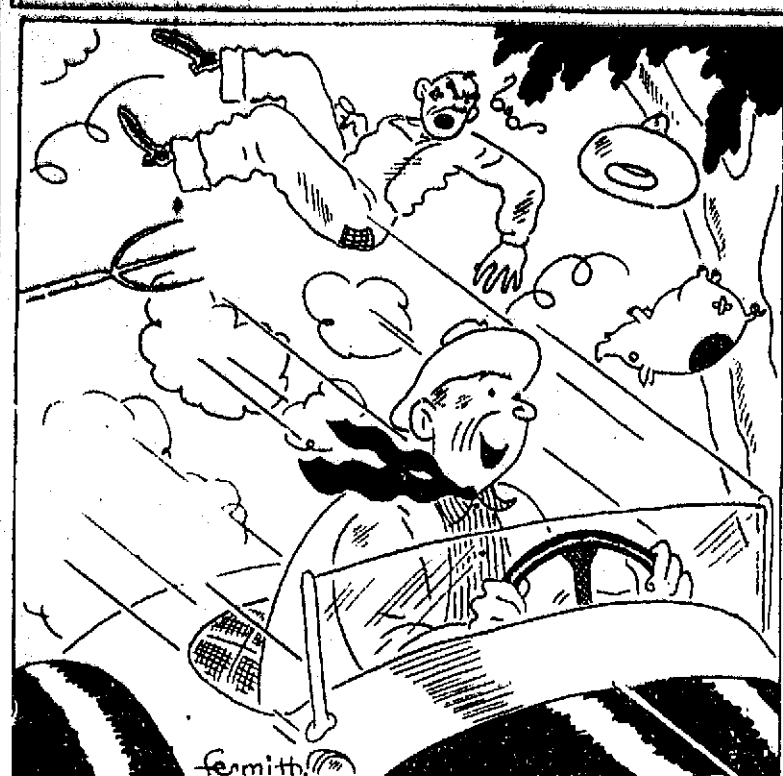

TORONTO, Canada.—(AP)—A treatment for cancer, in which malignant cells are said to be digested by a method resembling natural digestive processes of the human body, is described in the Canadian Medical Association Journal, by Henry C. Connell, M. D., of Kingston, Ont.

The journal, official organ of the Canadian association, in an editorial says that Connell's work "can not be lightly passed by."

His report described 20 persons, all given up to die of cancer, injected intra-muscularly with his digestive fluid in May, June, July and August, this year. Two have returned to work apparently well. Four died. The pain of five is gone. The gain of nine other is less. In many cases the cancerous growths appear smaller. In about a third of the cases little change is apparent.

Dr. Connell describes his digestive fluid briefly. It is a protein product. He does not go into the history of other fluids, somewhat though not exactly similarly obtained, that have been used to treat cancer.

Drive At Proper Speeds

Year by year the deadly traffic toll reaches new peaks. In the thick of the battle to reduce this loss of life are state Motor Vehicle Administrators. Twelve of them, officers and members of the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators, have contributed a series of articles describing the major causes of automobile accidents. Number Two in the series: "Drive At Proper Speeds" follows:

By GEORGE R. WELLINGTON
President, American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators, Motor Vehicle Department, Rhode Island.

SPEED too fast for conditions is the greatest single menace to safety on the road. Drivers exceeding the speed limit caused directly more than one fifth of the automobile accidents involving driving errors in the country last year, resulting in 6,850 deaths and 134,300 persons injured, according to statistics compiled by a member company of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters.

This is not the whole story. It is known also that excessive speed was an important contributing factor in many accidents for which other causes were attributed. Authorities say that nearly 90 per cent of the 882,000 auto accidents with a death toll of 36,000 lives in 1934 can be laid at the door of speed too fast for conditions. The simple fact is that speed reduces the driver's mastery of his vehicle. Your ability to cope with an emergency diminishes with the extent to which you are exceeding the reasonable speed for a particular time and place. If a child should chase a ball into the path of your car, if one of your tires should blow out suddenly, if the car in front of you should stop quickly, if any of hundreds of other critical driving situations should occur, you might find yourself involved in a serious accident.

Reasonable speed is not simply a matter of arbitrary figures. In many states and communities, laws define the speed limits. Laws, however, do not define the many detailed and changing traffic factors—such as traffic density, weather, seasonal conditions, visibility. All these place the burden of judgment on every individual driver. In short, the principle item in controlling the menace of excessive speed is the good sense of the man or woman, boy or girl, whose foot is on the accelerator.

Dyess Colony to Face Fraud Probe

Mississippi County Grand Jury Will Investigate October 14

LITTLE ROCK.—Prosecuting Attorney Dancer L. Dudley of Jonesboro announced Wednesday night that the Mississippi county Grand Jury will meet at Osceola October 14 to investigate reported irregularities in financial affairs of the Dyess FERA colony in that county.

Dudley said after a telephone conference with Governor Futrell that information transmitted to him last March by the governor, involving alleged forging of checks and pay roll padding, will be placed before the grand jury. He said the information in his hands did not involve "any high authorities."

Special Election Called by Futrell

Poll November 5 Will Fill Offices Held by Executive Appointment

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Secretary Harvey Combs announced Thursday that October 19 had been agreed upon tentatively as the meeting date of the Democratic state central committee in Little Rock to nominate candidates for circuit and chancery judges in districts where appointments have been made due to vacancies.

LITTLE ROCK.—Governor Futrell will call a special election for November 5 to fill all vacancies that have occurred in district, county and township offices since January 1, he announced Wednesday.

The announcement was made in connection with the appointment of Minor Pipkin as judge of Polk county to fill temporarily the vacancy resulting from the death two weeks ago of County Judge J. W. Looney.

The governor said he appointed Pipkin because there is little over a month for someone to serve and he is not a candidate for the place.

Members of the governor's office staff began a check of the roster of elective district, county and township officials to determine in which counties a special election must be held.

It was said that there probably are 200 to 300 vacancies in the office of justice of the peace and many more in the office of constable, all of which will be included in the call for a special election.

Governor Futrell has appointed since last January two circuit judges, a chancellor, three circuit clerks, a county treasurer, a collector, a tax assessor, a county judge, a dozen or more coroners and surveyors and several justices of the peace.

The governor said he will call the election in compliance with Section 50 of Article 7 of the constitution which provides that all vacancies occurring in judicial, county and township offices shall be filled by special election, except that those occurring in state and district offices within nine months of the next general election and those in county and township offices within six months may be filled by appointment.

Candidates for district office at the special election must be nominated either by the state committee or by petition and those nominated by petition cannot be designated on the ballot as Democratic nominees. Candidates for county offices may be nominated by the county committee.

Convictions Found in Murder Case

Gulley Given 18 Years, Tollifson "Life," in El Dorado Trials

EL DORADO, Ark.—(AP)—Clyde Gulley, Farmville (La.) married man, was convicted of second degree murder for the fourth of July slaying of Mrs. Cleo Moore Murphy and his punishment fixed at 18 years in prison by a circuit court jury here Wednesday.

Conclusion of the Gulley trial ended jury cases for the current court sessions. An adjourned term of the court will be convened here January 2 when two other charges against Gulley will be called.

The Farmville man is under another first degree murder indictment for killing R. A. (Pap) Harper, Mrs. Murphy's companion, and one of assault with intent to kill John Pennington of Strong, a kinsman of Mrs. Murphy. Pennington was shot through the head last Christmas Eve.

The Gulley trial brought out conflicting stories of a rural entanglement between the Farmville man and the young Huttig (Ark.) woman.

Given Life Term
EL DORADO, Ark.—(AP)—Iver Tollifson, 30, truck driver, was convicted of the double slaying of his wife and another woman in circuit court Wednesday and sentenced to life imprisonment.

prisonment.
He pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with intent to kill his small son, Iver, Jr., and was sentenced to 10 years.

Tollifson ran amuck in a rooming house here early one morning last June. He shot and killed his wife and another roomer, Mrs. Cliff McDaniels, as they slept, then wounded his son.

He was indicted and sent to the State hospital for observation. The hospital staff reported him sane.

Old John says, "I had to get up 5 or 6 times every night. This bladder irregularity was accompanied with scanty flow, burning and backache. I flushed out excess acids with little green tablets containing buchu leaves, juniper oil, etc., called BUKETS. They work on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. After four days if not pleased any druggist will refund your 25c. I sleep good now." Briant's Drug Store, and John S. Gibson Drug Company.—adv.
